Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Mother s Souvenir: Compiled From the Writings of Some of the Most Distinguished Poets and Poetesses of the Day A little more than seven years ago, the one placing the following selection before the bereaved of our land, met with a sad association form the death of two of her little sons by fire. Let by a spirit of resignation, she seeks to mourn with those that mourn. From time to time the scraps composing this little volume arrested her attention, and from the perusal of which she obtained much of comfort and religious strength. If there are those sorrowing for the loss of a child, or of any friend dear to their hearts, to whom the Mother s Souvenir may impart the same feelings of calmness, joy, and hope, she will feel amply compensated for time and trouble bestowed. There is something so peculiarly sad in the death of the little loved ones of home. They fasten themselves in our memory as the ivy clings to the shattered battlement, unwilling to loose their grasp though Time threatens dissolution. Christ loved them. And when his disciples rebuked those bringing their infants to receive his blessings, he said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of heaven!
